

Privacy Policy

Crossroads Community Church (CCC) respects your right to privacy and understands your desire to protect personally identifiable information. When you are visiting this website, we collect statistical information concerning where you go on the site, what browser you use, operating system and IP address. This information aids us in the future development of our site in order to meet the various needs of our guests. By using this website, you are giving us your express consent to use the information that we collect about you in the manner described in this policy.

Please be aware, the off-site links CCC provides have no direct affiliation with this website. These sites are not bound by our privacy policy. If you have concerns about any of these third-party sites, please read their privacy policy.

The personally identifiable information we collect is done so by the consent of the individual volunteering said information. (Personally identifiable information is any information that could be used to identify you personally.)

Information submitted to us is only available to CCC and is used only for CCC ministry purposes. For some ministry purposes CCC may communicate to you through a contracted third party service provider. We screen these service providers to ensure that they do not share, sell, or rent individual personal information that we provide to them. CCC will not sell or rent your personal information to third parties.

If you received a mailing from us, (a) your email address is either listed with us as someone who has expressly shared this address for the purpose of receiving Crossroads Community Church information in the future ("opt-in"), or (b) CCC has this information as a result of your individual or family relationship with us. Each email sent contains an easy, automated way for you to cease receiving email from us, or to change your expressed interests. If you wish to do this, simply follow the instructions at the end of any email.

If you have received unwanted, unsolicited email sent via this system or purporting to be sent via this system, please forward a copy of that email with your comments to office@crossroads.cc for review.

Crossroads Community Church reserves the right to amend this policy at any time.
